

Interview	4.Excellent	3. Very Good	2.Good	1.Fair
Ask 10 or more thick questions; i.e. questions that go beyond thin: Example of thick question:“Ms. Rosa Parks, how did you feel when you were asked to give your seat up?”:Example of thin question: “What elementary school did you go to?”	Questions allow interviewee to describe at least 9 events that made them who they are in detail.	Questions allow interviewee to describe at least 8 events that made them who they are in detail.	Questions allow interviewee to describe at least 5 events that made them who they are in detail.	Questions allow interviewee to describe at least 3 or less events that made them who they are in detail
Focus: Questions stay focused on the special event/accomplishments of the women being interviewed.	Interviewer’s questions stay focused on the accomplishment of the interviewee 90% of the time.(Out of 10 questions).	Interviewer’s questions stay focused on the accomplishments of the interviewee’s questions at least 80% of the time. (Based on ten questions).	Interviewer’s questions remain focused on the accomplishments of the interviewee at least 50 % of the time. (Based on ten questions.)	Interviewer’s questions remain focused on the accomplishments of the interviewee at least 30% of the time. (Based on ten questions).
Creativity and Effort	Demonstrates superior research and excellent knowledge	Project shows good research and knowledge	Shows limited research and knowledge	Shows little interest in the project and inadequate research

Fictional Story of Famous Woman being interviewed	4.	3.	2.	1.
Story has a definite plot,	Story has definite plot, beginning, middle, end	Some story plot elements are missing	Many story plot elements are missing	Most story plot elements are missing
Story has events that happen in time sequence order	Story sequence order makes sense using time order words	Some story sequence order makes sense using time order words	A little of story sequence order makes sense using time order words	None of story sequence order makes sense using time order words
Creativity and Effort	Story shows superior creativity and effort	Story shows good creativity and effort	Story shows acceptable creativity and effort	Story shows little interest and effort
Art	4.			0
	Art accompanies project			Art doesn't accompany project
Neatness	Very Neatly Done/Shows attention was given to drawing			Poorly done/shows no attention given to drawing